Description

Dual Training is based on the principle of sharing the training time between the educational center and the company in the exercise of a professional activity, through which the formative and transformative identity of the person who learns is modeled.

In this Congress we will have the opportunity to learn about the cases of two European institutions that have a long and proven experience in Dual Training, a model that is becoming an increasingly established and widespread reality in our educational field.

At the same time we will know the experiences of the companies and students that are participating in Dual Training, and finally, the UPV/EHU and the University of Lleida will present their current and future lines of action.

Unibasq will close the morning session; and the activity will continue in the afternoon with the communications of the Congress.
