Description

The learning sequence will begin by identifying the main ecosocial challenges that education must address and the alternatives that educational spaces can offer. It will then examine the key elements of an ecosocial curriculum: learning objectives, content, methodology, and assessment.

The Summer Course will conclude with the presentation and discussion of various inspiring experiences.

Objectives

Manage the keys to carry out an ecosocial education in formal and non-formal education.

Identify the main environmental and social challenges to which ecosocial education responds.

Identify characteristics of fair, sustainable and democratic societies to develop within ecosocial education.

Select the main ecosocial learnings to be acquired by our students.

Manage methodologies according to the ecosocial approach.

Evaluate learning from an ecosocial perspective.
