Description

The aim of this seminar is to promote the shared reflection about current researches in the urban area, landscape architecture and other spatial disciplines, as well as to stimulate an exchange between researchers in urban and territorial processes and transformations in different countries.

The seminar will feature four main lectures, held by the International Scientific Committee members, in line with the research approach of Prof. Dr. Maider Uriarte Idiazabal (1981-2016). On the other hand, there will be research paper presentations and round tables composed by keynote lecturers, in order to discuss the results and create a shared thinking space around city and territory.

The main topics will be:

- Urban fringe landscapes
- Urbanism and Landscape in mountainous areas
- Methodologies and tools for Regional Planning

Objectives

- Join research methods of urbanism, landscape architecture and other spatial disciplines (geography, urban planning and sociology).
- Expose a specific research field of (peri-) urbanization processes in landscapes with high relief energies or other coining natural morphologies.
- Discourse and development of specific urban and regional planning strategies for the Basque Country and similar regions.
- Create a strong link between the participants (local and international) and the University of the Basque Country.
- Promotion of young scientists networks in spatial disciplines.
